

Serving America's Military – 24/7 Anytime, Anywhere

Due to ever-changing schedules, assignments, and rotations, Laughlin Air Force Base in Del Rio, Texas, sought a solution to provide all its personnel with fresh food and beverages on a convenient basis.

The base identified the Autonomous Retail Merchandiser (ARM), to meet its needs with the ability to operate seamlessly 24/7 in remote locations, provide 100% security and 100% inventory management control, and make its foodservice operations more profitable by utilizing leading-edge automated checkout technology.

LAUGHLIN AIR FORCE BASE

Immediately after installing the ARM model, the base realized that the autonomous solution required less labor resulting in increased productivity and provided its service members with a better experience to browse products on shelf, have their selections added to the cart, and purchase seamlessly.

CONVENIENCE

Operating seamlessly in remote locations across the base, this solution provided airmen and airwomen fresh food and beverages on an anywhere, anytime basis.

MULTIPLE PAYMENT OPTIONS

With an easy integration with existing payment processing systems, the ARM was programmed to accept military IDs, credit cards, or any other form of payment that is POS preauthorized within the merchandiser.

REDUCED OPERATING COSTS

Abundant space for diverse product offerings requiring less labor on an ongoing basis.
